

I Think I'll Be Still

Lee Black, Allison Speer

I think I'll just sit and watch the rain, catch a few drops in my hand
Hold them and try to comprehend Your endless days
I think I'll just sit and watch the rain

I think I'll just breathe and listen in to the conversations of the wind
Describing your glory over and over again
I think I'll just breathe and listen in

Chorus

I think I'll be still and know that You are God
Let it sink deep, deep in my heart
And trace in my mind Your faithfulness in every step I've trod
I think I'll be still and know that You are God

I think I'll look up to Heaven and pray with my eyes wide open all the way
And tell You out loud I'm grateful for amazing grace
I think I'll look up to Heaven and pray

Repeat chorus twice

I think I'll be still and know that you are God
