

What's Left Of You

Bring Him the pieces of your broken heart
He'll put together each shattered part
He specializes in restoration
And He'll make you new
You're a masterpiece of beauty
When The Artist is through
Though you haven't much to offer
But a heart torn in two
He'll take what's left of you

Your heart is like a painting
Tattered and torn
Hopelessly ruined
Discolored and worn
But your life in living color
He will bring into view
Just place on His easel
All that's left of you

He'll take what's left of you
