The Parable of Joy (Matt. 25)

Allison defines how to put every talent, skill and resource in the service of the Master to finally find the illusive “immeasurable joy”.

Relativism and its Stronghold on the Church (2 Timothy 4:3-4)

Staying on the path of sound doctrine while the roaring lion seeks to devour the absolute truth of God.

What Is Not In the Bible? (2 Cor. 1:3-10) God won't put more on you than you can bear? Tell that to the Apostle Paul whose great suffering led him to total dependence on God.

Mary: The First Lady of the Resurrection (John 20)

Two ways of looking at the resurrection are found in the actions of the disciples and Mary.

Take Me to the River

Taking every action and thought captive in order to clearly point people to the Savior, Jesus.

The Last Stanza Says We Win (Ps. 22)

The Psalm of the Cross-concludes with our clear victory! We can know we are chosen by God if we understanding this great Psalm that begins with “My God, My God, Why have you forsaken me?”

The Jenga Game in the Church (2 Tim. 3)

How we can face perilous times ahead and not be weakened by compromise.

Interruptions: As Close to God as You Can Get (Mark 5: 21-43)

The interruptions in our lives are God's way of using and growing us. The healings of the woman with the issue of blood and the 12 year-old girl define God's immediate and ever present help.
